International shipping moves more than 80% of global trade, helping drive socio-economic development worldwide. The International Maritime Organization (IMO), the World Trade Organization (WTO), and shipping industry leaders have taken matters into their own hands to provide a safe, clean, efficient, and reliable form of transportation.

International shipping is also at the vanguard of change, driven by new tools made available by technological advances. The way we plan, trade, and transport goods is changing, and the shipping industry is primed to play a critical role in driving new opportunities for trade, cleaner and more efficient shipping.
