

NEW TECHNOLOGIES FOR GREENER SHIPPING

Testing novel technologies for biofouling

The TEST Biofouling Project will support testing novel technologies and new sustainable methods for biofouling management through demonstration projects. These demonstrations will showcase the environmental and energy efficiency benefits that can be achieved. Demonstration of technologies will be conducted in selected ports and shipyards around the world, with regional exchanges on technological solutions and best practices.

